

Ubuntu Ogogo presents

Holiday Gifts and Goodies

When the AIDS pandemic swept across the continent of Africa, it took the lives of nearly an entire generation – 35 million perished – which left their children alone and vulnerable. With little or no support, it was the grandmothers of Africa who stepped in to care for these children.

The Stephen Lewis Foundation launched the Grandmothers to Grandmothers Campaign in 2006 which amplifies the voices and expertise of African grandmothers, and shows the world that leadership by older women is critical in reclaiming hope and rebuilding resilience across communities.

Ubuntu Ogogo (Compassionate Grandmothers) are Grandmothers and Grandothers from Surrey, Langley and Delta, who stand in solidarity with the grandmothers of sub-Saharan Africa.

To all friends, family and neighbors . . .

Let us do the shopping for you in a socially distanced way and provide you with Holiday Gifts and Goodies that you would enjoy or be proud to give away.
